

(1) Art. 66 1/2, §1-108 ("Chauffeur"). The term is obsolete for purposes of the Maryland Vehicle Law and no longer is used in it.

(2) Art. 66 1/2, §1-110 ("Commercial Motor Vehicle"). The term is obsolete for purposes of the Maryland Vehicle Law and, in the few places where it is used in present Art. 66 1/2, has been replaced, without substantive change, by the terms "truck", "trailer", and "semitrailer", as defined in this subtitle.

(3) Art. 66 1/2, §1-111 ("Commercial Motor Vehicle - For Hire"). The term is obsolete for purposes of the Maryland Vehicle Law and no longer is used in it.

(4) Art. 66 1/2, §1-112 ("Commercial Trailer"). The term is not found anywhere in present Art. 66 1/2 and has not been used in its revision.

(5) Art. 66 1/2, §1-113.1 ("Company Van Pool"). This definition is unnecessary in light of the revision of present Art. 66 1/2, §3-812 - now §13-932 of this article - to include a cross-reference to the identical definition appearing in Art. 78 of the Code.

(6) Art. 66 1/2, §1-124 ("Established Place of Business"). The term is not found anywhere in present Art. 66 1/2 and has not been used in its revision.

(7) Art. 66 1/2, §1-135 ("Immediate Family"). This definition is unnecessary in light of the revision of present Art. 6 1/2, §3-831, where the substance of the definition has been incorporated directly into the substantive law; see §13-810(b) (1) of this article. The term is not used anywhere else in the Maryland Vehicle Law.

(8) Art. 66 1/2, §1-137 ("Inflammable Liquid"). The term is deleted in favor of the identically defined "flammable liquid" (see §11-123 of this subtitle), which is the more commonly accepted usage and has been used consistently in the Maryland Vehicle Law.

(9) Art. 66 1/2, §1-139 ("Laned Roadway"). The term is not found anywhere in present Art. 66 1/2; in fact, while it is taken from and identical to the definition of "laned roadway" in §1-127 of the Uniform Vehicle Code (Revised, - 1968), the term does not appear to be used anywhere in that Code either. However - as per the apparent intent of both the Uniform Vehicle Code and the Maryland Vehicle Law - the substance of its provisions has been incorporated in the revision of present Art. 66 1/2, §§ 11-301 and 11-309; see §§ 21-301 and 21-309 of this article.

(10) Art. 66 1/2, §1-142 ("Lien Contract").
